We are here to learn.
This is our school, and we are proud of it.

We come from North, South, East, West
small towns, large cities, country villages.

Some of us are rich, some poor,
and some must work their way through,

some of us are intelligent, some are genius,
and some of us must struggle to learn,

some of us are tall, some thin,
some overweight, and some muscular,
but our varied lives all blend into one mainstream of concentration,

we are here to attain an education,
to grow mentally, physically and spiritually.

We are here for four years of concentrated study, guided by a distinguished faculty and the inspiring,

immortal monuments
which are forever about us.

we also have our dormitories where a different kind of learning takes place . . .

that of learning to live
with our fellow man.

We have our science building,
 our dining hall, our post office,
 our canteen, our fraternity lodges, our fieldhouse, and athletic fields, our administration buildings, and our infirmary . . . all of these are ours . . .

our campus . . . our school.

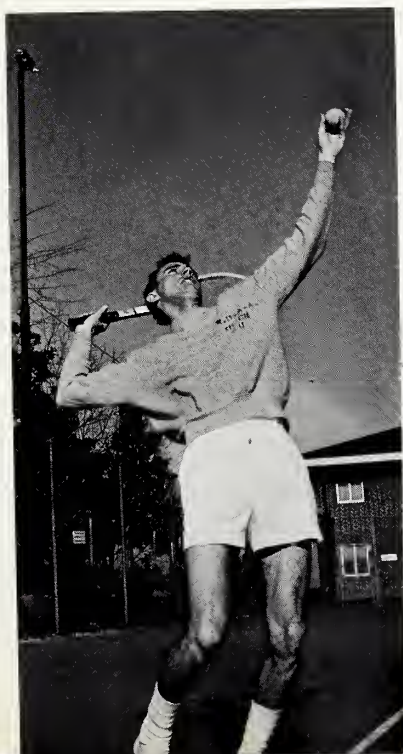

To many of us our campus means happiness,
bewilderment, sadness, excitement,
failure, and suffering, but this is life.

We have tiring schedules, long hours of study, difficult exams, football games, Converse, school spirit, parties, fun . . .
all of these are ours . . .
our campus . . . our school

This is not a vacation from reality,
     we have our fears, our frustrations,
     our joys, our schoolboy pranks,

this is life;
 this is the achievement of knowledge,
 this is our campus . . . our school.

DEDICATION

For his untiring efforts to make athletics at Wofford successful,

For his willingness to cooperate with faculty and student alike,

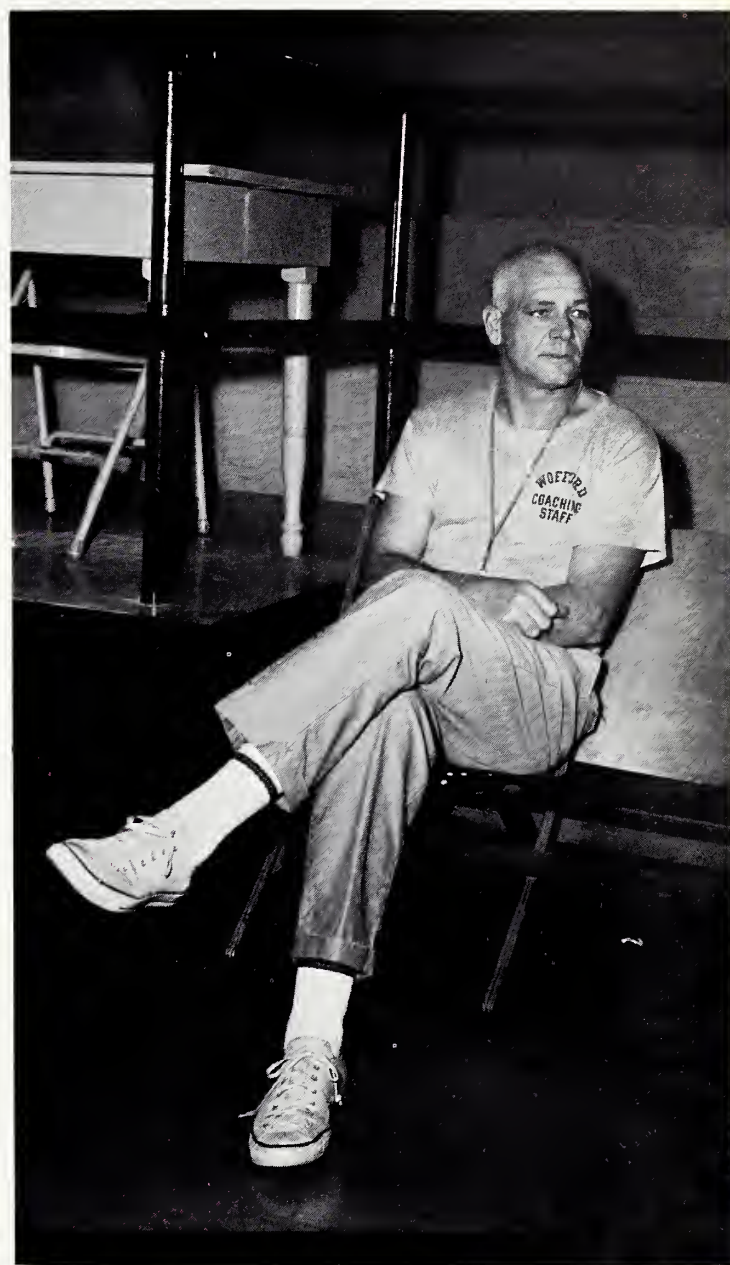

For his congenial manner with which you are always greeted,

For the concern he has for all the men he coaches, and even greater, his concern for our college community,

For his respect for opposing coaches and harrassing officials, and

For his ability as a coach which has and will continue to give our college the spirit and unity necessary to continue an output of well-rounded men.

—B. Hayes.

For these and more, the staff of the BOHEMIAN are privileged to dedicate the 1965 BOHEMIAN to

EUGENE FOSTER ALEXANDER

A Scholar, a Gentleman, a Friend...

DR. CHARLES E. CAUTHEN
1897-1964

On December 12, 1964, Wofford College lost one of the most respected members of its faculty in the person of Dr. "Charlie" Cauthen. The words that bedeck this page embody the reflective thoughts of his closest colleagues, students, and friends.

"... a living example of what a Wofford gentleman should be."

1954 BOHEMIAN.

"Dr. Cauthen exhibited the marks of a great teacher by his intellectual discipline and his sense of communication which carried the idea to the student. His presence demanded respect and students felt they had let him, as well as themselves down if they did not do a good job."

George Dean Johnson, Jr.,
Class of '64.

"He sought the practical solutions, the decent ones. If there were polls for the 'most valuable faculty member,' he would have been chosen by his associates."

Dr. Lewis Jones,
Class of '38.

"He served ably in positions of great responsibility, but willingly in more lowly tasks. He was a scholar, humble before truth; a friend who never presumed on friendship; a lover of goodness and knowledge and wisdom."

Rev. Bryan Crenshaw,
Class of '43.

"When one of his colleagues reflects even briefly on the life and influence of Dr. Charles Edward Cauthen, all of the finest and noblest words he can summon to characterize a man so universally loved and admired and respected rush pell-mell into his mind. As simply as I can put it, Dr. 'Charlie' was a good man."

Frank Logan,
Dean of Students,
Class of '41.

Phi Beta Kappa was founded December 5, 1776, at William and Mary College, in Williamsburg, Virginia. It was the first Greek letter society. The society has spread through the entire nation and has become one of the most respected organizations of its kind in the world.

The Wofford College chapter, Beta of South Carolina, was chartered in 1941. Election to Phi Beta Kappa is one of the highest honors that can be bestowed upon a person by the College. Election to the society is a recognition of intellectual capacities well employed in acquiring an education in the liberal arts and sciences.

FLIP WALKER
 Number One

Delta chapter completed a very successful and inspired year of 1964 under the excellent leadership of Flip Walker, Perrin DesPortes, and Russell Zimmerman. The end of Fall Rush saw the chapter initiating twenty-one new pledges. The Order again this year proved itself an invaluable part of both the college and community life. All phases of student activities, including Who's Who, Blue Key, Circle K, the Senate, Executive Cabinet, BOHEMIAN Staff, Pi Gamma Mu, Student Activities Committee, athletics, and others were represented by members of K. A. The chapter also established a scholarship fund in memory of Mama "D", and contributed several history books to the library in memory of Dr. Charles E. Cauthen, Faculty Advisor, along with several other services to community organizations. This year also saw Brothers Haynes, Fowler, Smith and Felder getting pinned, the marriage of Brother Bridges and the birth of a daughter to Brother McAlister and his wife. Our Annual Old South Ball, held in Augusta, again capped the social activities of the chapter this year. Mrs. Patty Bridges, wife of Brother Bridges, represented us as K. A. Rose. With capable and experienced leaders, we are anticipating another successful and productive year at Wofford.

Kappa Sigma—a friendly union of men dedicated to the principles of scholarship, leadership, and having a good time in brotherly fellowship, once again completes a year of successful fraternal activities. Led by Ronnie Beckham and E. R. Allen we opened this year by receiving the scholarship trophy for the previous year. Following Alpha Nu's tradition, we welcomed another outstanding pledge class.

Kappa Sigma is responsible in many areas of campus life. We have officers in Blue Key, Scabbard and Blade, the IFC, Head Cheerleader, and SCA. In student government Kappa Sigs are well represented: three class senators, and the senior class president. Kappa Sigma has staff members on the "Terrier Tale," "Journal," and the Editor of the "Old Gold and Black." Also this year Alpha Nu has had three members elected to Phi Beta Kappa at Wofford.

The year has been punctuated by a variety of social activities. Kappa Sigma has held thirteen parties with everything from our annual Stardust Ball weekend, to mountain parties at the Blue Note, to the beach, to the Christmas party for underprivileged children. All these have made up the fellowship and the brotherhood which bind us together as Kappa Sigmas.

"For the establishment of friendship on a firmer and more lasting basis; for the promotion of Brotherly love and kind feeling . . ."

With a pledge class of 23 men, of whom 18 were destined to become brothers in the spring, PiKA started a new year of excellence. In rapid succession came high honor in the homecoming decorations, the best fraternity academic average for first semester, and the election of two class presidents, four senators, and the secretary of the SGA.

Socially, PiKA enjoyed its Halloween Party, served the community and itself with the annual party for underprivileged children, and climaxed the year with the Spring Weekend at Laurel Park. These highlighted a successful social program.

With a renewed spirit of unity and brotherhood Pi Kappa Alpha remains a fraternity of distinction in all aspects.

MISS MARCIA WEERSING, S. A. E. Sweetheart

Sigma Alpha Epsilon is a fraternity of distinct individuals bonded together into a closely knit brotherhood. We believe in the qualities of scholarship, leadership, brotherly fun and above all, the development of each of our members as an individual and a True Gentleman. This year under the excellent leadership of Harvey and Bobby our fraternity continued to grow in character and meaning. S. A. E. entered rush with great anticipation and enthusiasm and was rewarded with an outstanding pledge class. Again this year, as in the past, S. A. E. continued its tradition of leadership in all areas of campus activities. Starting off, in a grand manner, Gamma chapter punctuated the year with numerous social functions. Tom and Frankie provided us with many parties at the Knights of the Pithias, the Policeman's Club and the Shriners' Club which were thoroughly enjoyed by all. The weekend and the Rock were other highlights that marked a year of fun and fellowship. When not being entertained by a social event, S. A. E. responded to its wander lust with excursions of varying distances. New Orleans, Washington, and Nassau all felt the influence of Gamma chapter. However, we did not forget the members who stayed home and provided the house with a new color television set and a sidewalk from the parking lot. Though S. A. E. is a social fraternity its outlook is not limited only to pleasure. The things one remembers most in life are those one does for others. We will long remember the Foster Child that we adopted for Christmas. As individuals we came together, lived together, and left as brothers.

It is difficult to define or explain exactly what a fraternity is. The Sigma Nu fraternity is many things. Achievements first meet the eye—for 1964-65 the holder of the highest average among fraternities, three class senators, Homecoming display winner for the second year in a row, managing and features editors of the "Old Gold and Black." Obviously also, it is participation as individuals and groups in campus activities—intramurals, collegiate sports, etc.—and social life.

These aspects first come to mind, but Sigma Nu, the Legion of Honor is much more. It is brotherhood, realized in the subtle but powerful feeling that comes in a late-night discussion of personal and fraternal ideals and goals or in a quiet fireside party in the mountains.

Perhaps Sigma Nu is best explained as a group of individuals bound together as a fraternity with real brotherhood and Honor inextricable intertwined.

1964-65 BASKETBALL

Following the successful football season, Terrier fans looked to basketball with unguarded optimism. Veterans George Lyons, Orville Crabtree, and Buddy Hayes were joined by promising newcomers Willie Pegram and Mac Lemmons to make an explosive, exciting starting five. Ample bench strength made the Terriers even more formidable. After a disappointing start the Gold and Black rushed through the Little Four schedule without a loss, won the Spindale Tournament, and went to the District 26 Finals where nationally ranked High Point handed the Terriers a heart-breaking defeat.

INTRAMURALS

Intramural Sports is one of the most important activities of Wofford's students. Under the guidance of Professor W. W. Scheerer, director, and Charlie McAlister, student director, the 1964-65 intramural season has been very successful. The number of participants and the spirit they have shown have made Wofford's program one of the South's most successful.

MISS MARTHA KAVANAUGH

HOMECOMING QUEEN

The choice of MISS NANCY BAKER as the 1964 HOMECOMING QUEEN exemplifies the fact that Wofford Men know true beauty when they see it! Possessing a most enviable position was Milton Rhodes, Nancy's sponsor. Homecoming 1964 will long be remembered for its lovely Queen, its swinging dance with Maurice and The Zodiacs, and for its Football Victory—a magnificent achievement!

A kiss from the President.

The anxious candidates and their escorts take time for a bite to eat.

The Queen with her real escort.
